7 Reasons to choose our bespoke mooncakes

1. All of our bespoke mooncakes are produced with the finest of ingredients by hand. Not only they taste and look delicious, they retain their freshness for days.
2. There are a range of mooncake flavours available:
 - White Lotus Seed
 - Black Sesame
 - Red Bean
 - Macademia Nuts
3. Our custom moulds are uniquely designed to suit the branding needs of your company. As illustrated in the photos from our previous clients such as Gucci and Crown Commercial, these moulds can be machined to suit the fine details of any logo or design feature.
4. On average, the turn around for an order of commercialised mooncakes produced overseas may take up to 30 days. As a result, the cake's freshness is heavily compromised.
5. Being in the local hospitality business for over 15 years, we source our produce locally as much as we can and uphold our reputation by thoroughly understanding and strictly adhering to the Australian Food standards.
6. The bespoke cakes are free from preservatives
7. Unlike commercial wholesalers where you might be liaising with different account managers, we are a small business where you can directly place orders with our production manager. This ensures a fast turn-around which will exceed your expectations.

The Four Season's Hotel was one of our very first customers to try our range of frozen dumplings and yum cha items.

We are a proud food caterer of many Qantas's in-house events.

We have received many positive reviews over the years from The Good Food Guide, Time out and various newspapers.

Golden Unicorn Chinese Restaurant

This is favourite haunt of 'Bra surfers is ideal for breakfast, lunch or dinner (it opens at 11am - 10pm) Fried dough wrapped in rice noodles (zha leung cheung fun) is a fun breakfast dish and very good to dip in congee, creating a texture-trio of crisp dough, slippery noodle, and glutinous rice porridge

Sticky, shiny, baked barbecue pork buns go down way too easily with a bottle of Tsingtao, and prawn and chive dumplings taste almost as sweet.

Tip: The queue at peak times might look vicious but the trolleys at Golden Unicorn move at speed and you won't be waiting in the stairwell for too long.

This favourite haunt of Maroubra locals is ideal for any day-after-the-night-before needs. Fried dough wrapped in rice noodles (zha leung cheung fun) is not only a fun breakfast dish to say, it's also very good to dip in congee. MUST ORDER Chinese broccoli with oyster sauce. A favourite of surfers at the 'Bra as well as Chinese tourists, this modest beige room has some of the nicest stuff on the yum cha circuit, even if their dumpling skins aren't always silky-soft. They do a good fried cheung fun (rice noodle roll) though, and serve one of the rare mango pancakes where the butter hasn't been dried safety orange. It's cheap, too perfect for some post-swim dumpling action.
